God is continuing the changes which began in 2008. Change has not ended; it has only started. It was initiated in the Spirit in 2008 and was a divine invitation for the people of God to transfer into His long-term and established purposes. The shift is for long-term purposes. This does not, although, indicate that the shifting has ended. It has only begun. The major shifting and changing will continue until March and April of 2010. From then on, it will level off and transpose into 21 months of supernatural regrouping. This will be indicated by stunning levels of favor released into the Body of Christ.

Spirits of anxiety and tormenting spirits of condemnation have been released against the Body of Christ by Satan on an onslaught and in tremendous wave to steal precious breakthroughs. The next three years will be vital for each of us to manage our emotions. Our hastiness will cost us tremendously. Patience and peace in Christ will be the only manner in which true Kingdom function will take place. Proverbs 26:4 "Do not answer a fool according to his folly, or you will be like him yourself" will be vital in these next 3 years. When we respond to someone's words, we are in a sense coming into an agreement with their world through the power of words. There is a God-way to answer someone, and we must be in grace to respond in that manner. The key is, attitude. When we respond to someone on their terms, we come into a certain spiritual atmosphere which causes us to be like them. Now is a time to be careful for emotional traps whether the persons are scheming, or they do not know better, or they do not intend to be. The next three years will be a time of putting certain key relationships into perspective. Do not answer them, wrestle with them, or deal with them on their terms. God said, "These relationships are like a bundle of thorns. If you deal with them, you will be pierced. Leave them for Me to deal with, even if they do not understand. Let it go, and move on. Shift!"

The Lord made an invitation for redirection into a place of His purposes. Some caught it, but many didn't. This three year cycle will be a time of severe torment for some because of their rebellion against the Lord. They will continue to struggle with the same issues and wrestle with the same overcoming obstacles. These next three years will function as a holding pattern which will function like a belly of a whale. It is meant to soften them, buffet them into repentance, and cause them to get a revelation of obeying the Lord.

The next 15 months, (until March and April of 2010) will be a time of rapid change. People will find themselves in whole new arenas and spheres of functions, both good and bad, depending on how the Lord is dealing with them. Those believers who are in major rebellion will suffer in various ways because of the divine shaking which is happening. God is looking for those who can respond to a time of grace He is offering where He can cause a divine set-up for His Kingdom picture to begin to mold itself in a very powerful manner.

In these next 4 months, God will begin a new series of insights, showing the prideful that they are not gifted in the way they believe. They will begin to crumble under the pressure to show what they have been saying they are. They will be tested during this time, and their deceitful pride will be exposed. There is going to be 4 months of breaking for many. God's dealings are to show us our own hearts, not to flatter us. God is not interested in building us up to the point where we are puffed up. We cannot get puffed up, but we must be true to ourselves that we must bear the fruit we say we are called to. There is a painful exposing coming in these next 4 months, and it will be the worst to those who simply won't admit it. Circumstances will reveal the truth concerning their incapability's. God is allowing this so that false thought systems which are deception at the core but idolatrous in their purpose to be broken down. Many in leadership capacities in the Kingdom have arrived at false conclusions regarding their giftedness. Because of this, part of the shifting taking place is to expose them and cause them to come low into a cycle of true humility and not arrogant falsehood. God will save their soul through this dealing of humility. Three major leaders will be exposed for financial improprieties in the Kingdom. In these next 15 months, and they will begin a cycle of heaven sent wisdom flow beginning to hit the core of those leadership structures whom are laid out with a capacity to respond to what the Lord is saying.

"Manage Your Emotions"

Personal note from Cesar:

I went through various ways of writing out the following thoughts, because of the nature of what I felt God wanting to encourage us in. It has a lot to do with managing our emotions. I hope and pray it's a blessing to you. In looking at the insight the Lord gave me October of 2007, the Lord told me, "I will make 2008 a year of shifting into My long term purposes. I will replant many people in new places in their journey. Like a highway, for those who miss the shift and exit, they will have to ride the highway out. There is no exit for the next 3 to 4 years. For those who miss the shift, they will remain in what they were in. Make the shift!"

Now that so much has changed, I have just a few thoughts regarding how to best manage the area of emotions. I feel that is my prophetic assignment in giving these thoughts of what I sense are insight. Again, I felt the best and easiest format for you to process. Chew away.

This is not a very typical prophetic word for me. I usually don't prophesy so much from what appears to make me sound like an "Emotion Coach" of some sort. Although, I felt the Lord gave me a clear assignment for this word. I do believe it is some simple words of wisdom for the next three years.

Yours in Christ,

Cesar

Without rehashing the discernment God released late 2007 regarding how much things were going to shift in 2008, I do, want to certify that certainly, what God spoke through His prophets, "2008 will be a time of shifting," was what I feel, almost an understatement. We did not fully grasp the size of dimensions this shift involved. On this side now of 2008, the question can almost now be, "What has not shifted?" So much change, and so much repositioning of things around our lives.

FACING THE NEXT THREE YEARS

MAKE THE JUMP AND ADAPT

Ecclesiastes 7:10 "Don't say, "Why is it that the former days were better than these? You are not being wise when you ask this." It is during this time which many will literally live out of the "record player" of their head. They will continuously replay their past in their mind over and over, without end. They might not even realize they are doing it. Ecclesiastes says this is not wise. One obvious purpose it is unwise is, we are attempting to draw from a well that is forever closed. This will be a dangerous fantasy realm which many of the people of God will dwell in during these next three years. Living in a past while comparing it to the present will be costly during these years. It is vital that we do not activate frustration, disappointment, and breed strife within ourselves by looking in the past. There are lying spirits which have been assigned to distract and influence many believers into living out of the past and not move forward.

This is vital in our fully accepting the changes which have taken place. Though some parts of the changes are quite difficult to adjust to, it does, require all of your emotion's attention to make the adaptation. Do not live in your past. Do not rob your today by living in your past. Good, bad, or ugly, yesterday is gone forever. May God circumcise our hearts of yesterday. Philippians 3:13-14

“Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth to those things which are before. I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.”

If we do not “snap” out of it, and go ahead and come to our senses and accept the fact that we are now in a new hour, we will struggle. Without fully coming to grips with the changes, our true work and our true function will not even begin. We cannot both be distracted by our yesterday and function as God wants us to function. Those people of yesterday, the setting of yesterday, the benefits of yesterday, the comfort of yesterday, the quality of yesterday, the advantages of yesterday, and the requirements of yesterday are all gone. We must accept that. Now is a new day. Now, the ground underneath us has shifted, spiritually speaking. You can curse yourself by living your life out of yesterday. It will render you helpless to be able to live today. Remember, the Lord shifted things in the Spirit. We must shift with Him.

PRAYER: “Lord, help me to not live out of yesterday’s world. It is forever gone from me. I want to live out of today. Give me insight for today. I want to press on towards what is before me, and not behind me. Lord, I ask for wisdom today. Lord, give me grace. I fully release my past to you. I put it in your hands. I will move forward. I fully accept the new environment which is upon me now.”

REVELATORY FRIENDS

Who you call on will make all the difference in the world. These next three years will be vital for you to identify who you are “ministering to” and who you are to relate to as a “true friend.” God will hide words of insight in the hearts of your true friends. He has designed it like this in order to create more of an atmosphere of appreciation and closer relationships. Proverbs 2:6 “The Lord gives wisdom, and from His mouth come knowledge and understanding.” We must walk in humility and be open to the wisdom, and knowledge, and understanding the Lord is speaking. We will know it is from the Lord, because it will have a certain sound. It will bear witness with what God is speaking. Most of the time, the friend might not even know, that he or she is functioning as a mouthpiece at that very moment. On the contrary, although, with things shifting, there are some relationships which will forever keep you struggling with your past. Though their intention might not be so, their heart’s relation to you as a friend might be an unhealthy element in your life right now. There are some who simply want to be close to you and spend time with you, but if God has shifted you forward, you must go with Him.

Relating to the wrong people right now, will take you into a whole cycle of confusion, as you almost subconsciously attempt to make sense of how the old settings relate to you today. In many senses, they do not relate. God has shifted you out of there, and you must move on. I always call this, “The Gift of Goodbye.” Move forward.

People will give you their input from the world they live and function out of. Right now, you do not need any confusion. Because of your love for this person or people, you will confuse their input for being true counsel of God or worthy input into your life. It is important that you allow not just anyone to speak into your life. It is vital that you protect the gateway of your heart. Proverbs 4:23 "Above all else, guard your heart, for it is the wellspring of life." Please don't learn this the hard way. A huge part of the shift God allowed has to do with moving you forward into an atmosphere which is intended by Him for His long-term purposes. He knows the atmosphere He needed you to be rooted into, which will help promote proper growth in your life.

Wrong friends or acquaintances during these times can turn out to be one of the most costly forms of distraction right now. Though this type of wisdom is always applicable, it is to be greatly emphasized right now because of how much effort God has exerted, just to get us to shift. Don't be robbed right now by preventing your full shift into what God has, by relating to wrong people.

This is key, because God has brought about changes. Our ties to past relationships can be extremely harmful to this, and at the same time, bring unnecessary stress into your life. It can create a huge waste of your time, money, and yes, cell phone bills. Though there are many friendships from the past which God wants you to continue, the key is, they have shifted with you. They, being old friendships, continue to represent where God is taking you now. They are with you in the journey, and not a voice from the past, trying to convince you to step back and relate to your old world. It's gone forever. Move on.

DISTRACTION OR DISTINCTION

Many people struggle with change. The good news is, when God does something regarding His people, He first under girds it by providing the grace for it. Grace comes first, then comes His changes. The very presence of grace begins to prep us for those changes. It creates certain emotions of excitement and openness for new directions we, perhaps, might of never been open to. Because of this, we must understand that there is grace for the change. Many people now find themselves in such a new place in their life. A place they never would have imagined.

Because of this, some people are emotionally "on hold" while they try and process the changes which have taken place. This is distraction at its best. Your continuation in processing the spheres of diversity in your life, both mentally and emotionally will put you in a place of waiting for some special conclusion to arrive. Wait no more. It is a time to make plans and move forward. It is a time to put our hand to the plow and get to work where God has allowed us to land, during these shifts which have taken place. Rather than pressing our hands together in stress, we must put them to work on attending to the things which need our attention.

Because of the new place you are now in, there are many details which need your application. This need for application, if neglected, will create an unbelievable stress level in your life. The reality is, things have changed, and there is now nothing we can do about it. We must understand that the stress of the undone will be on many scales far greater than the stress of processing change.

Therefore, if we listen to wisdom, it is far greater for us to address the affairs at hand. Joshua 11:15 "As the Lord commanded His servant Moses, so Moses commanded Joshua, and Joshua did it; he left nothing undone of all that the Lord commanded Moses." We must go ahead and get over our complex of resisting change, and start to work with what we now find ourselves in. Many hearts will fail, simply because of the stress of change. The best way to process these times, is to find grace to take care of whatever matters are before us.

Now is a time to have a plan. Proverbs 2:11 "Discretion will preserve you, understanding will keep you." Part of having a plan, is to go through a time of thinking things through, so that understanding is present. Planning is understanding where you want to go, what you want to do, and how you want to do it. A plan is understanding on paper. Pull out a pen, write some responsibilities you find need attention right now. Understanding keeps us, because it allows us to comprehend how we must function. On the flip side of that, discernment and understanding shows us what not to get into. God help us understand. A plan made from prayer to God and understanding from the Holy Spirit will keep us rooted. It will keep us from not becoming so distracted right now by the horrible stories and news we will hear. It will keep our eyes on what the Lord has and what He has entrusted us with.

Another word for "discretion" is "calculation." It is a time to pray and ask God to open the eyes of your understanding, and for Him to show you where you are at, so that you can correctly calculate what all you need to do. Management of life is calculating all that you can, so that you administrate your life, not the other way around. May God help us calculate what all He wants us to take care of so that we can be great stewards before Him.

It begins with understanding where you're at, and going from there. With a strategy, you will be far more effective and far more efficient. You will waste less time during these next three years, and you will find purpose in your days.
